Subject:

Bradgate Park

Notes:

I don't remember this walk very well. That is I remember taking the walk, it was Rahel's first introduction to Bradgate Park but I don't remember details of the day. Rahel looks quite happy but then she has always like to look good in photographs.

People:

Clifford and Rahel.

Dates:

The images were found with others taken along the Embankment all with the same date 16th July and time stamped only minutes apart. This was impossible, the events could not have taken place on the same day. I have assumed that they were downloaded at the same time and that the time stamps were added during my early struggles with exif data. I have therefore taken a guess that these recorded a Bradgate Park walk on the following weekend.
