Subject:

Me and Rahel.

Notes:

Found these pictures on an old sdhc card that I started using for my new Panasonic Lumix camera. Not sure why they have not previously been processed. They are very early attempts at using my new Canon digital camera hence shot as jpegs.

The pictures of Rahel are, I think in Bridgford, the first two in the park and the third on the river bank opposite what Google Maps now calls River Crescent. The pictures of me were taken only 25 minutes later so that's a puzzle as I can't think where that fence would be. There are cows in the field beyond the second fence in the distance (they became hidden after the images were rotated to correct the horizontals). Did they still have cows in the fields beyond the Hook in 2016?

I seem still to be quite a weight then even though it's 4 years since I had acute pancreatitis.
