Subject:

Hurricane Lamp.

Notes:

Found a replacement glass chimney for my old Meva lamp. Wonderful timing, beautiful warm evenings. Bought a couple of additional lamps.

Posted on Facebook:

Dead chuffed, got me ode Meva 863 going again. Replaced globe with a German one. Not an exact fit but it works. Found a metre (well turned out to be only 98 cm at a stretch) of 9mm wick on Amazon, and just look. It's a joy, a positive joy. What more on warm, humid night in Bridgford, could a man want? (Other than, as Max pointed out, a genuine Czechoslovakian Meva globe that IS an exact fit?)
