Subject:

Matlock Bath sojourn - Day 5.

Notes:

Joseph's birthday and we had arranged to drive to Sheffield to have a celebration lunch. I had promised to stop off in Matlock if we left before 12:00 but it was 12:45 before we finally got going so I drove straight there. Unfortunately although we arrived late Joseph was not ready and by the time he was the local restaurants were closed until 5pm and Joseph was reluctant to travel.

We went in search of somewhere open on foot and I took a few snaps of Joseph and Rahel together. Eventually we found a pub where the barmaid recommended that we try a pub called Riverside which she thought served food all day. Joseph knew where it was and the information was correct so we ate there.

It was getting dark as we set off and I found the drive absolutely hideous but we made it safely.
