Subject:

The Bull Ring Market and St. Martin's Square

Notes:

We did our weekly shop on the Bull Ring Market on Saturday mornings. A prize of the open air market was the cheese stall which sold Cheddar cheese, "Sharp" and "Mild".

The indoor market had an excellent butcher where meat sold like hot cakes. Four butchers worked at pace in a busy lively atmosphere. Chickens were eviscerated on the spot and the giblets thrown into large plastic bins. For a few pence a hand full of chicken livers could be retrieved from the bin.

I was tinkering with A0019 again today (1st May 2023) when I notice the chap in the crowd just to the photographers left of the till. It looks very much like a younger Nick Greenwood. Zooming in he even has the missing teeth. We wouldn't have known him from Adam then but I think he knew Greg at that time. I wonder...

Maggie Hughes, Nick Greenwood?

Dates:

Dates and times are very approximate. The year is certain but the rest is guess work based on the sequence of pictures and sporadic diary entries.
