Subject:

Dalmatians - Clifford - London - Supercharge

Notes:

The trip to Nottingham was on the bank holiday weekend. We left Friday 28th and returned Monday 31st with Roy and his mate Phil. The self portraits which were my favourite pictures of myself for years and years were taken with a mechanical shutter release cable with the camera held between my feet.

The dogs are Jane and Rastus. Jane was the mother of Rastus and also of Mary and Neil's dog Cleo.

Thursday 3rd June We went to the Rising Sun for lunch and then in evening to Henekey's, the original in High Holborn. We were very impressed. Then

"down to Old Caledonia, firework display - off to Bunjie's, unfortunately shut. Greek place on Tottenham Court Road for a meal."

No idea why there would be fireworks that evening nor why on a Thursday we would be going on so late, the clock on Big Ben, St. Stephen's tower appears to say five to eleven.

Supercharge were a band with big ambitions in the mid 1970s playing in the Hope and Anchor, the Marquee and the Nashville Rooms, they signed with Virgin Records and had a number 3 hit in Australia with "You've Gotta Get Up and Dance" (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=GpyeVHIY1yY>). Supercharge interspersed their set with some comedy routines and are apparently still going. Some of their stuff is available on YouTube.

People:

Clifford W. Fulford - Wesley Fulford - Joan Fulford - Maggie Hughes - Albie Donnelly - Ozzie Yue

Dates:

The Nottingham dates are more or less correct I think, they are confirmed by Maggie's diary. Old Caledonia date likewise confirmed by Maggie's diary and the time is taken from Big Ben. Supercharge at the Marquee is more problematic but as it's on the same film roll it has to be between 3rd June and Mary and Neil's visit on 11th of June (next film). It is a real puzzle though that it is not recorded in either diary. I wonder if we went on to the Marquee when Bunjie's was closed I have a half memory of doing that but it maybe horse dung so plummed for Friday 4th as the only weekend unaccounted for.
