Clissold Park and school trip to Margate.

Notes:

Candid shots in Clissold Park Sunday 9th July 1978. We went to Clissold Park often but there are gaps in my memory. I knew we played tennis there but I don't remember either the location or layout of the courts. If I hadn't been processing these pictures I wouldn't know that New River flowed through the park and was open. I remember that New River was man made to carry a water supply from the River Lea in Hertfordshire to the City and that it is largely enclosed underground once in London but I have no memory of seeing it. Of course now I remember seeing my own photographs which confuses the issue.

Nor do I remember St. Mary's being such a striking and prominent feature when walking in the park. I do remember the deer though and I'm surprised I didn't photograph them more there aren't for instance any in this set.

The Beach at Margate Tuesday 11th July 1978. Pretty sure it was a school trip for Maggie on which I accompanied her as another responsible adult. I have a little voice telling me that this was a freebie scam that Mags had discovered her fellow staff were using to get their partners on free trips.

Dates:

The dates are recorded on the original contact sheet. Wish I'd done that all the time.
