Camera: Unknown

Film:

Subject:

Royston, Ruth and David's visit and Biggles.

Notes:

I am sure I have seen the visit to Kew in one of the diaries but I cannot find it now. I should get round to try to digitise them and make them searchable with OCR.

The statue is one of the replicas of the Queen's Beasts commissioned in Portland Stone by Henry Ross in 1958, specifically it is the White Greyhound of Richmond a badge of John of Gaunt, Earl of Richmond.

People:

Clifford, Maggie, Royston, David and Biggles.

Dates:

From the clothes we're wearing it is pretty clear that it was chilly so the weather reports for 1982 suggest sometime at the beginning of May. 1st to 3rd May was the Spring bank holiday so I've gone for that weekend on the Kew Gardens picture. The time's a guess based on the lengthy shadows.
