Subject:

Open University award.

Notes:

I found a cheaply mounted print of this image in my loft while searching for draft excluder on Saturday 21st January 2023. I don't recall seeing the picture before. I suspect that if Mum found it to be unflattering she would not have had it on display. Neil Hardy tells me that my sister Mary and he were at the ceremony but he does not know the date or place. In 1982 I lived in Stoke Newington with Maggie Hughes and that may explain why I was not much aware of my Mum's studies or the award. In early August that year I would have been on holiday in Istanbul.

The picture was in a buff envelope with several card mounted professionally taken monochrome prints which look to have been taken in the first half of the 20th century.

People:

Joan Mary Fulford

Dates:

Joan records in her autobiography that she received her BA (Hons) in English Literature in 1982 but I have no more information than that. It would be interesting to see the certificate itself. Of course if her finals were in 1982 it is possible that the awards ceremony took place later.

Picture sets with no other dating than the year are placed in directories commencing with YYYY1231.
