

Roll: 19971021-8100

Camera: Sony: MPS

Film: Digital

Subject:

Roy.

Notes:

I suspect the picture may have been taken by my dad. It is certainly at Julian Road. There is Mum's print of Renoir's "Luncheon of the Boating Party" and my Grandad's dinner gong bought on a holiday in Wales. The gong has a bas relief of the Old Court House at Llanrwst. The Old Court House is still there and is run as an hotel according to Trivago. I still have that gong, although it is now hung on string, I use it as often as possible much to the chagrin of my boy.

Although I never heard it used by Grandad or Mamma, it had pride of place together with his clock on the sideboard at the back of the tiny sitting room behind the shop at 87 Birkin Avenue.

People:

Clive Royston Fulford (Roy)

Dates:

The date is automatically added to the image by the camera software. There is no metadata present. The time is just a guess and could be wildly out.

Frames:

SCS0038 19971021 20:00:00 Man reclining.

SCS0038 - Man reclining