Subject:

Rahel's hanging basket, some apple and pear blossom.

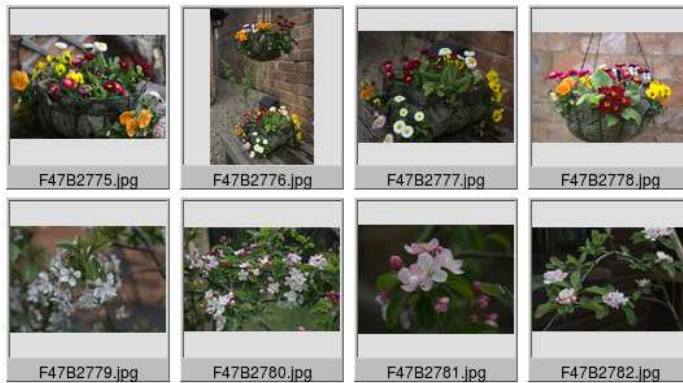

Notes:

The poor spring weather meant the hanging baskets and the vegetable planting was all rather late last year.

I do find some of Rahel's choices of plants for the hanging baskets rather eccentric, there's very little in the way of trailing flowers but I have to admit they are remarkably effective, especially if viewed while standing on a stool. The apple blossom looks splendid but once again it was a pretty poor crop.
